

In the Social Realm

DEPARTMENT EDITORS: Miss Maud Hawley, Miss Vivian Greer.

Caslyn Schwein was a dinner guest of Glenn Bagley last Wednesday.

M. C. Edgington, Mr. and Mrs. John Beaver and Miss Christine Beaver were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. E. N. Smith, Sunday.

Rev. and Mrs. Howell Isaac entertained at 12 o'clock dinner Tuesday, the guests being Mrs. P. G. Waadray and son of Portland and Dr. and Mrs. J. P. Johnson.

About seventy people were in attendance at the Nazarene church picnic given up the canyon Thursday. E. P. Bliss acted as exhorter. Many interesting testimonies were given.

Mr. and Mrs. T. M. Lynch, Mr. and Mrs. George Culy and son, and Mrs. W. W. Wright formed a little family picnic party who drove to Long's cabin and spent the day, Sunday, the all-important lunch basket being present also.

Miss Rose Thomas was hostess to the Fleur de Lis Club Saturday afternoon, at her home on the Boulevard, the following members being present: Misses Irene Skeen, Christine Beaver, Amy Stannard, Nellie Beaver, Minnie Beaver, Edith Lowe and Calla Beigel.

Misses Dorris Bagley, Ruth Shouddy, Elsie Homer and Angie Neil, Messrs. Henry Enders, Leland Reader, Paul Williams, Walker Thorne and Carrol Wagner form a group of Ashland's popular younger set who are expected home from a two weeks' camping trip at Lake of the Woods, Wednesday. Miss Amy Wing of Klamath Falls was also one of the party.

Mrs. Frank Lennart and her guests at the East Side Inn formed a little dinner party at the Chautauqua Park Club dinner Friday noon. The members of the party were Mrs. E. L. Jack, Mr. and Mrs. J. K. Choate, Mrs. Frank Lennart, Misses L. Mildred and Dorothy Lennart, Messrs. Kohagen, W. Flagg, H. Foley and J. Graham.

Mr. and Mrs. George Anderson, Miss Ruth Anderson, Mr. and Mrs. James Mattingly, Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Sanders, Claude Sanders, Mr. and Mrs. H. O. Butterfield, Miss Freda Butterfield and Clark Butterfield enjoyed a basket dinner in the park after morning services Sunday. Another little family group was composed of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Burnett and sons French, Clark and Hart.

A number of young ladies enjoyed the day at Helman Baths Thursday, as guests of a group of Ashland's popular young men. The picnic dinner provided by them was one of the features of the occasion. Those in the party were Misses Marian Hodgson, Claire Johnson, Margaret Siemantel, Ruth Thorne, Margaret Patterson and Olive Thorne, Messrs. Harold Huntley, Wilford Carr, R. L. Bardic, John Enders and Jan Mowat.

Mr. and Mrs. Benton Bowers entertained a company of friends at supper Saturday evening beneath the oaks at their beautiful country residence east of the city. A long table was spread upon the lawn and a bounteous repast served at 7:30. After supper the company was treated to victrola music and indulged in story-telling. Those present were Messrs. and Mesdames Blacklock, Winter, Hedges, Simpson, Whited, J. P. Johnson and Vaupel.

The birthday of Mrs. R. M. Hedges was fittingly observed by a little party given in her honor by Mrs. A. H. Peachey and daughters, at their home on Lincoln street, Saturday evening. An appetizing chicken dinner was served at 6:30. The indispensable birthday cake was one of its features. Those attending were David McKinney, Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Hedges and Misses Leona Smith and Maud Hawley.

The Qui Vive Club held a splendid meeting at the home of Mrs. Alfred Young, Friday afternoon. During a short business session plans were made for a picnic dinner to be held in the park one week from Sunday. The following program was presented during the afternoon, with Mrs. Fred Putnam in the leader's chair: Readings by Mesdames Young, Sayles, Evans and Easterly, and poem by Mrs. Rocho. After the program, messages were delivered by Mrs. Young.

Quantities of roses and sweet peas formed the decorations at a delightful 1 o'clock dinner given Thursday by Mrs. Alfred Young, at her home on Granite street. The dainty place cards bore little "jingles" containing "hits" at the different guests present, and formed very interesting features of the dinner. The guests were Mrs. Lyman Payne, Mrs. J. P. Sayles and guest, Mrs. Sender, Mrs. Fred Putnam, Mrs. Gummaer, M. S. Easterly and guest, Mrs. Code, and Mrs. J. F. Rocho.

A party of Ashlandites who spent Sunday at Coletta was composed of the following: Mrs. Frank Lennart, Misses Mildred Lennart, Dorothy Lennart, Louise Lennart, Alta Farmer and Mabel Davis, Mr. and Mrs. F. G. McWilliams, Mrs. Eggleston, Messrs. Kohagen, H. Foley and E. Walcott. The day was spent at the camp of some Ashland young people who have been spending their vacation at that place: Misses Ruby Palmer and Frances Hamlin, Messrs. Strickland and Clawson.

One of the merriest parties of the week was a "slumber" party given Wednesday night by Miss Margaret Patterson at her home on Pine street. Music and story-telling kept the guests up until nearly morning, and the breakfast call next morning came all too soon for the sleepy maidens. Those who gathered around the breakfast table were Misses Olive Thorne, Claire Johnson, Ruth Turner, Margaret Siemantel, Marian Hodgson and Margaret Patterson.

One of Friday's little picnic gatherings in the park was in honor of Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Robinson and sons, Forrest, Beacher, Noble and Thornton, of Eugene. The other members of the party were Mrs. J. V. Leep and Mrs. T. J. Bunch and children, Genevieve and Melville. The Robinsons arrived in Ashland Saturday from California, where they spent the winter, and are spending a few days with Rev. and Mrs. Bunch at 548 C street, before returning to their Eugene home.

Mrs. George Culy entertained a small party of little people and their mothers to help her celebrate the second birthday of her son Bernel, at her home on Liberty street Friday afternoon. The little guests had a most enjoyable time. Ice cream and cakes were served. Those present were Mrs. Davis, Donald and Frank Rose, and Leaman Burton. Mrs. M. Wright and Mrs. T. M. Lynch, grandmother and aunt of the little two-year-old, were also present.

A number of young people of the Church of the Brethren, chaperoned by Mrs. Arthur Decker, Miss Detwater and Mr. J. G. Miller, left Wednesday morning for a one-night camping trip to Tolman Springs, the party returning home Thursday evening. They report a splendid trip. Those in the crowd were J. G. Miller, Miss Detwater, Mrs. Arthur Decker, Beauford Miller, Alta Morton, Ray Miller, Vernon Decker, Orville Settles, Ethel Miller, Velma Sager, Agnes Settles, Bruce Lininger and Ralph Mow.

The members of the Nell Creek Parent-Teacher Circle have just cause to be proud of their little band. Though only twelve in number, the Nell Creek Circle has to its credit more things planned and accomplished than many circles of the county who can boast of several times that many members. The last thing to be undertaken by the active little association was the painting of the school house, and Wednesday's business meeting was held in the newly-painted building. The next meeting will be held in September, when plans for a dinner which will bring more funds into the circle treasury, will be formed.

Early on Wednesday morning a number of Ashland people, carrying well-filled lunch baskets, journeyed to the picnic grounds up the canyon, and very literally "put in the day" at that place, breakfast, dinner and supper being served before the members of the party were willing to start for home. The gathering was in honor of Mrs. S. Green and daughters of Roseburg, and sister, Miss Evelyn Kornut, of Portland, who have spent the week in this city as guests of Mrs. J. W. Losher. Those in the party were Earl Mix, Mrs. J. W. Losher, Mrs. S. Green, Mrs. F. B. Mix, Misses Willetta Green, Ardath Green, Bernita Mix and Evelyn Kornut.

One of the jolliest children's parties of the summer was given at the home of Mr. and Mrs. O. L. Long, on Eighth street, from 7 to 9 Friday night, when a number of young people gathered by invitation of Raymond Long, to assist him in appropriately celebrating his eleventh birthday. Games and story-telling formed the amusements of the evening. Ice cream, cake and candy were served by Mrs. Long. The young host was the recipient of a number of handsome remembrances. The guests were Dorothy Jones, Neva Gearhart, Gladys Inlow, Jessie Inlow, Lillian McMillan, Bessie McMillan, Nora Long, Marie Porter, Alma Cox, Walter Jones, Arthur Long, James Porter, Allen Cox, Dale Brown, Lamont Frulan, Grant Nealey and Milton Nealey.

Caslyn Schwein entertained seven of his little friends last Thursday afternoon with a swimming party at Helman's Baths. After a big time in the tanks the boys were kept busy in the grove about an hour unwinding a spider web that had been woven by Mrs. Earl Hosler. Mrs. Emma Wilder and Mrs. L. Schwein. Much credit is due to Mrs. Hosler for the many high climbs the boys had in the tops of trees, following their string to secure a prize at the end. A dandy lunch of chicken sandwiches, bananas, cake and ice cream was served under the trees, while Mrs. Wilder took some fine postcard pictures of the little group. Those present were Wilbur Chapman, Harold Woods, Donald Dickerson, John Saunders, Glenn Settle, H. V. Mitchell, Jr., Elmer Bagley and Caslyn Schwein of Chico, Cal.

Y. P. S. C. E. "Irish Stew." The Y. P. S. C. E. of the Christian church is planning to have an "Irish stew" up the canyon Thursday night. Meet at pavilion at 7:30. Members come provided with bowl, spoon, crackers and the necessary vegetables.

Clearance Sale. For two weeks, in millinery, all lines, big bargains. Mrs. H. Simons.

The chicken dinners given Friday noon and night at the club house by the Chautauqua Park Club were a success in every sense of the word. The dinners were two of the most appetizing ever given by the club, the menu being as follows:

Stewed chicken. Gravy. Potatoes. Beets. Creamed beans. Cucumbers. Coffee. Tea. Buttermilk. Bread and butter. Apple pie. Cherry pie.

About one hundred and fifty guests were served, over $40 being taken in during the day, and the ladies are justly proud of the result of their work. The affair was in charge of Mrs. C. B. Lamkin, to whom much of the credit belongs. The able corps of assistants were Mesdames Fleet, Walrad, Stanley, Gow, Goodyear, McWilliams and Jones, assisted by Mrs. Judd Miller, Miss Vivian Miller and Miss Maud McCallister.

Birthday Dinner on Ashland Street. Mr. and Mrs. Andy Nichols gave a dinner Sunday in honor of those of their guests whose birthdays come in August. They were T. F. Doran, whose birthday was August 7; J. H. Doran, the 11th Mrs. J. H. Doran, the 12th; Vernon Doran, the 23d, and Andy Nichols, the 28th.

Those in attendance Sunday were: Messrs. and Mesdames William Hardy, McNeil, J. H. Doran and T. F. Doran, Mesdames John Abbott and D. J. Hanscom, Vernon Doran, Fanny Doran, Alice Doran, Dorothy, Vera and Monroe Abbott, Luetta and Edith Hartley, Mason and Alma Doran.

Mr. and Mrs. Nichols and the Doran families were old friends in the Palouse country, Washington, and the Nichols are now occupying a large, comfortable tent which is pitched near the J. H. Doran home on Ashland street, in which tent the bountiful dinner was served. Mr. and Mrs. Nichols came to this city in June of this year, and may decide to locate here.

Miss Ethelyn Hurley Howard.

Wednesday, August 7, Mr. and Mrs. Delwin O. Hurley gave a delightful dinner party at their home in honor of the birthday of Miss Ethelyn Hurley. The guests arrived at 11, and at noon a most delicious and complete dinner, consisting of everything good, was served. The table was beautifully decorated with dillies and choice roses. After dinner the guests returned to the parlor, where Miss Hurley was happily surprised with a "shower" of beautiful handkerchiefs. The remainder of the afternoon was devoted to amusements, the guests being royally entertained with both vocal and instrumental music, which was followed by two interesting and comical contests. At 5 o'clock the guests departed for home, expressing themselves as well pleased with the day's entertainment. Those present were Mrs. Ella A. Holdridge, Ethelyn Hurley, Anna Bailey, Ona Maxon, Winifred Lester, Jennie Barnes, Georgie Barnes, Orpha W. Arnold and W. H. Hurley.

Jolly Gathering at Summers Home.

One of the most charming little affairs that the younger set has known this season was given by Mrs. C. M. Summers, when she delightfully entertained a few girl friends of her daughter, Miss Marian, at their home on Laurel street, Friday afternoon from 2 until 7. Yellow was the prevailing color in both house and table decorations. Merry guessing contests claimed the attention of the young guests during the greater part of the afternoon, an "animal-molding" contest, in which each guest strove to guess the names of the animals when made, proved especially amusing. Miss Gertrude Barber carried off first honors in this contest, as well as in the "penny for your thoughts" contest which followed. Other games kept all the ladies busy until 5:30, when a delicious three-course dinner was served, each guest finding her place by means of a dainty little basket place-card. The guests of the afternoon were Misses Gertrude Barber, Minora Cornelius, Dorothy Ricketts, Gertrude Moore and Stella Stahlman.

Glick-Beaver.

A marriage of interest to many Ashland people is scheduled to take place at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. W. Edwards, at Hebron, Ohio, tonight, when Miss May Belle Beaver, a popular teacher in our city schools, will become the bride of Mr. Orville Glick. Miss Beaver has resided in Ashland only a short time, coming here about a year and a half ago from Rushsylvania, Ohio, in company with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Beaver of Avery street, and sister, Miss Christine Beaver. She has been an active member of the Christian church of this place, having been connected with all the young people's organizations of that church. She served for some time as president of the Borean class of the Bible school, and as secretary of the Y. P. S. C. E., and her absence will be keenly felt by both of these organizations. She is a niece of A. M. Beaver and Mrs. Elizabeth Yockey, of the Beaver Realty Company, with which firm her father is also connected.

The groom is also known to many Ashland people, having spent several weeks in this city during the winter. He is a well-known young farmer of Rushsylvania, Ohio, and owns a farm in that vicinity, to which he will take his bride at once.

New Arrivals.

W. Lyman and family have recently arrived from San Bernardino, Cal., and will become permanent residents of this place. Mr. Lyman has purchased the Coburn & Watkins shoe-repairing machinery and moved it to 243 East Main street, where he has opened a first-class establishment. Mr. Lyman expresses himself as more than pleased with Ashland, stating that it is the finest place he has seen on the coast. He especially praises our city water system and the scenery in Ashland Park. J. H. Will, the well-known repair man of Ashland, has associated himself with Mr. Lyman and invites his friends to call at the new location.

The new fall and winter samples are now on display at Fuller's. Prices cheaper than ever.
